

(Free) Safari Jema: A Journey of Love and Adventure from Casablanca to Cape Town (English Edition)

Safari Jema: A Journey of Love and Adventure from Casablanca to Cape Town (English Edition)

Von Teresa O'Kane

DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

Download

Read Online

Produktinformation -Verkaufsrang: #858338 in eBooksVerffentlicht am: 2012-10-31Erscheinungsdatum: 2012-10-31File Name: B0074674N4 | File size: 73.Mb

Von Teresa O'Kane : Safari Jema: A Journey of Love and Adventure from Casablanca to Cape Town (English Edition) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Safari Jema: A Journey of Love and Adventure from Casablanca to Cape Town (English Edition):

KundenrezensionenHilfreichste Kundenrezensionen0 von 0 Kunden fanden die folgende Rezension hilfreich. Page turner!Von WernerI had the luck to travel through Africa with Teresa and Scott. So, of course I ordered this book immediately. In a nutshell, it is a real page turner. Not only is it written in an entertaining way but also philosophical. The details that Teresa gives, one can hardly find in any other travel books. It really touched me. Please continue to write books about your travels! Safari Jema!

Kurzbeschreibung Teresa OKane had always longed to see the world. She owned scads of travel books and maps and was about to buy yet another bookcase to hold the many Lonely Planet guides and travel essays that she had accumulated over the years when she turned to her husband and said, Im tired of storing our dreams. Lets live them! Within a month, they bought one-way tickets to Morocco, leased out their home, and set out on a journey of the African Continent top to bottom, from Casablanca to Cape Town. Transiting seventeen countries in 10 months, mostly by public transport, they explored wild, exotic, and historic locations they had only dreamed of and some they had never heard of. From sandy Timbuktu, to a tiny lemur populated island in Madagascar, the author embraces Africa. She contracts malaria, flies a micro light over Victoria Falls, earns a level one certification as a South African safari guide, discovers that an insect has turned her foot into a nursery for hundreds of eggs, grapples with the negative effects of foreign aid, and rubs elbows with European royalty deep within the Dogon in Mali. OKane offers an entertaining and enlightening look into overland travel on the African continent. Filled with helpful budget minded travel tips, this inspiring book may find you yearning to take a career break of your own. Kurzbeschreibung Teresa OKane had always longed to see the world. She owned scads of travel books and maps and was about to buy yet another bookcase to hold the many Lonely Planet guides and travel essays that she had accumulated over the years when she turned to her husband and said, Im tired of storing our dreams. Lets live them! Within a month, they bought one-way tickets to Morocco, leased out their home, and set out on a journey of the African Continent top to bottom, from Casablanca to Cape Town. Transiting seventeen countries in 10 months, mostly by public transport, they explored wild, exotic, and historic locations they had only dreamed of and some they had never heard of. From sandy Timbuktu, to a tiny lemur populated island in Madagascar, the author embraces Africa. She contracts malaria, flies a micro light over Victoria Falls, earns a level one certification as a South African safari guide, discovers that an insect has turned her foot into a nursery for hundreds of eggs, grapples with the negative effects of foreign aid, and rubs elbows with European royalty deep within the Dogon in Mali. OKane offers an entertaining and enlightening look into overland travel on the African continent. Filled with helpful budget minded travel tips, this inspiring book may find you yearning to take a career break of your own. ber den Autor und weitere Mitwirkende Award winning author Teresa OKane writes about travel and adventure from her home in California and from around the world. In Safari Jema, she and her husband pick of the thread of their dream to see the world. She gives presentations and has traveled to more than 125 countries. Teresa is currently finalizing plans for another expedition to Africa in 2013.